ETHIOPIANS IN SOUTH DRIVEN BY ITALIANS

Red Cross Officials at Addis Ababa Confirm Invaders' Reports of Advances; Ras Demtu's Army Disorganized and Units Flee; Ethiopian Government "Gravely Concerned" Over News

By Albert W. Wilson Associated Press Staff Writer
Addis Ababa, Jan. 27.—Red Cross officials to-day confirmed Italian reports that Italian forces have occupied the strategic town of Neghelli in southern Ethiopia. The officials said Italians had seized all the equipment of Swedish Red Cross units. Rumor that Swedes had been taken prisoners was, however, denied authoritatively.

HART RETURNS FROM OTTAWA

Finance Minister Takes Oath to New King; Goes to Work on Budget

When definite legislation covering the loan council scheme drafted at the Ottawa conference is brought down, and its full implications made clear, the province will be in a position to determine its future actions in this regard, Mr. John Hart, Minister of Finance, indicated this morning on his return from the federal capital.

Until then, Mr. Hart explained, the provincial government is withholding comment upon the Ottawa decisions. Mr. Hart returned to the capital looking in the pink of health despite the arduousness of the Ottawa sessions and of winter travel across the continent.

One of his first acts on returning was to take the oath of allegiance to His Majesty King Edward VIII. This he did at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 7)

Two Swedish members of the Red Cross units reached Addis Ababa last night, leaving five other Swedes in Sidamo province. The five were reported to have reached Igraslem safely after an air bombardment of their hospital unit.

ARMY DISORGANIZED

The defending Ethiopian army under the command of Ras Desta Demtu was reported to be completely disorganized since the bombing planes had spread their operations over an area 200 miles north of Wadara, making it impossible to transmit orders.

ANXIETY AT ADDIS ABABA

The Ethiopian government was reported to-day as being gravely concerned over the lack of resistance to the Italian attack in the south.

Ras Desta Demtu's army was reported scattered and fleeing from Italian bombardments.

NO NEWS TO PRESS

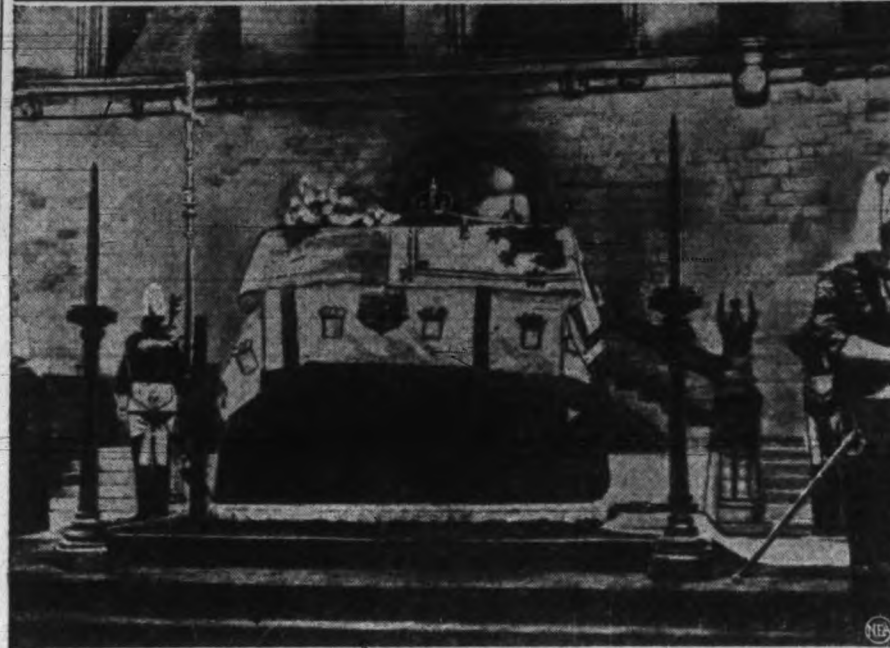

The government ordered all Red Cross officials in contact with the region to cease informing the press as to what was happening in Sidamo province.

Dr. Hanner, the Swedish consul, returned from an airplane flight to Sidamo, but said only: "My lips are sealed."

It has been reported, without official confirmation, that the Italians have occupied Neghelli and Magalo.

Supreme Court of Canada Hears Provinces Against Minimum Wage Bill

Ottawa, Jan. 27.—Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., finished his argument before the Supreme Court of Canada today on the validity of three Dominion statutes establishing minimum wages, the forty-eight-hour industrial week and one day's rest in seven. The Toronto constitutional lawyer was followed by provincial representatives who started to present their arguments that the laws are unconstitutional.

The three statutes, passed last year by Parliament on the initiative of the Bennett government, were based on conventions of the International Labor Organization at Geneva. Mr. Rowell argued they were within the competence of Parliament because section 132 of the British North America Act empowers the Dominion to implement treaty rights.

The sixty-eight-year-old Dominion counsel took two and a half days to present his arguments. He insisted the primary object of the three laws was to reduce unemployment by dis- (Turn to Page 2, Col. 3)

COMMISSION HEAD RETIRES

G. S. Harrington to Quit Federal Employment and Social Insurance Body

Halifax, Jan. 27.—Back in Halifax from Ottawa, Gordon S. Harrington announced his intention of retiring as chief commissioner of Canada's Employment and Social Insurance Commission.

The chief commissioner, former Premier of Nova Scotia, has been in office only six months. He declined to discuss the reason for his decision, saying he preferred any comment at this time to come from the Prime Minister, under whose department the commission has functioned.

Described by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, then Prime Minister, as the first federal body to be constitutionally empowered to deal with unemployment as a national problem, the commission was appointed July 20, 1925. Associated with Col. Harrington were Tom Moore, former president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, and N. R. Beaudet, Montreal insurance broker.

London, Jan. 27.—Great Britain's national pilgrimage past the bier of King George V continued on the last day of the lying-in-state in Westminster Hall to-day with what was believed to be the greatest queue in the history of London, after early morning scenes in which mourners protested an early closing of the chamber doors. More than 10,000 persons every hour moved by the catafalque.

KINGS ARRIVE IN LONDON

President of France Also in British Capital For George V Funeral

BIG ICE JAM IN NIAGARA RIVER

Flow of Water Over U.S. Falls Reduced to Almost Nothing

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Jan. 27.—A small bucket could catch all the water going over the United States falls to-day. Since Saturday the cataract's mighty roar has been stifled because of an ice-jammed river. Wind and ice have often stopped the flow of water here in the past, but there have been few times when persons could walk from the United States shore to Goat Island in mid-stream for two or three straight days.

With the weather remaining extremely cold, persons familiar with the falls predict it might be days before the great sheet of water would be familiar to millions of sightseers.

Fire Destroys Jewelry Stock

Vancouver, Jan. 27.—Jewelry stock of W. J. Brotherton, Fraser Street, valued at $2,000, was destroyed over the week-end by fire, caused by a gasoline explosion.

Police say the explosion resulted from an apprentice lighting a match while cleaning an alarm clock with gasoline. The apprentice was not seriously injured.

STUDENTS IN EGYPT RIOT

Police Wound Four at Dam-hamhour; One Parade Totals 1,200

Cairo, Jan. 27.—A widespread strike of students precipitated a clash to-day between demonstrators and police at Dam-hamhour, in which five students were wounded.

One student was reported to have been killed, but this could not be verified immediately.

The Dam-hamhour clash arose as a heavy force of Egyptian cavalry dashed to nearby Giza while 1,200 shouting students of Giza University marched on Cairo in connection with the strike.

The bridges between Giza and Cairo were opened in an attempt to block an entry by the students into the city.

Large forces of police centred at the bridge heads.

Ignoring counsel of their leaders, the students went out on strike everywhere. One group at Bulak made a bonfire of the furniture of the school of applied arts.

Cairo police were reported to have fired on rioters at Mansura and Dam-hamhour wounding an undetermined number.

The student strike came just as a deadlock threatened proposed British-Egyptian negotiations.

Two Constables Are Dismissed

Three Others Called Before Board in Toronto Clean-up

Toronto, Jan. 27.—Two constables have been dismissed from this city's police force in what is believed to be a drive to enforce a more rigid discipline following criticism of the department's administration made at the current royal commission inquiry into Toronto police affairs.

One of the constables, who was on probation, was asked for his resignation after it was learned he had failed to find an open window on his beat.

The other was discharged after having been found, while off duty, in a winery, drinking with a woman and the watchman.

THREE BEFORE BOARD

A third constable was suspended in connection with a charge against him of issuing a worthless cheque. Two others are to appear before the board of police commissioners charged with drinking while on duty New Year's eve.

A royal commission here is inquiring into charges made by a former constable that twenty-five policemen attached to the downtown No. 1 division in 1933 formed an organized band of burglars and looted stores and warehouses for a period of at least ten years.

Dr. Amos O. Squire of Oshkosh, N.Y., representative of the board of directors of Rotary International, Frank Phillips of Illinois, representative of the twenty-eighth Rotary district, and Wentworth Prescott, representative of the Boston Rotary Club, were among those who attended.

SEARCHERS FAIL TO FIND CLIMBER

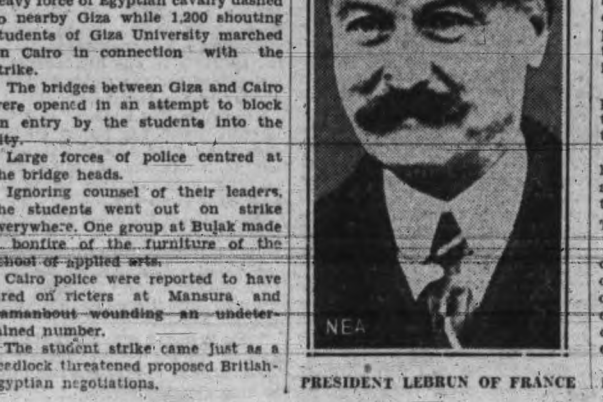

Great Obstacles Face Rescuers Looking For Missing "Thrill Climber" on Mt. Rainier

Longmire, Mt. Rainier National Park, Wash., Jan. 27.—Repulsed by ragged ice fields and tearing winds, veteran mountain climbers, searching for Delmar Fadden huddled to-day on the mountain's northern slope to decide their next moves.

Park officials said that whether the hunt for Fadden, twenty-three, missing Seattle "thrill climber," would be continued would depend largely on the report of Othe Daiber and his party who reached the 11,800-foot level on a perilous journey toward the 14,400-foot summit.

Observers at a powerful telescope at Yakima Park yesterday followed Daiber, Joe Halway, Pack-Hosack and Bob Buschmann, as they fought their way upward from their rest camp on Steamboat Rock a 9,000 feet.

The appointments, for ten years, carried salaries of $10,000 for the chief commissioner and $9,000 for the other members.

COURT TEST

Ottawa, Jan. 27 (Canadian Press).—Resignation of Gordon S. Harrington as chairman of the Employment and Social Insurance Commission had not been received by the government, so far as could be learned here to-day. Col. Harrington, a former Premier of Nova Scotia, who arrived in Halifax yesterday from Ottawa, announced his intention of resigning.

Part of the commission rests with the Supreme Court of Canada, which is now hearing references testing the constitutional validity of this and seven other "new deal" measures initiated by the Bennett government.

The commission was set up soon after the last general election, but no attempt has been made to launch on the elaborate scheme of insurance and employment measures contemplated by the act, pending decision of the court. The act was submitted to the Supreme Court immediately after the election.

Meanwhile, the three commissioners and a small staff have been marking time. It was learned the two who act with Col. Harrington have no intention of resigning.

They are Tom Moore, former president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, and M. R. Beaudet, former Montreal insurance broker.

tributing work among more people. Unemployment was a national problem now, affecting the life of the country, he said.

When a problem became national or international in scope it came within federal jurisdiction under the British North America Act, Mr. Beaudet maintained. He placed unemployment in this category and submitted there was no evidence it was not a permanent problem.

Parliament and not the legislatures was the proper place to pass laws dealing with unemployment and other social problems of national importance, he declared.

Attorney-General Roebuck of Ontario followed the Dominion counsel. He attacked validity of the three laws on the following grounds: "They were:

(1) Section 132 of the British North America Act gave no treaty-making powers to the Dominion, but only conferred power on Parliament to implement obligations of treaties validly made on behalf of both the Dominion and provinces.

(2) Governors and Lieutenant-Governors before Confederation had no treaty-making powers. When the B.N.A. Act was passed it conferred on the Governor-General or Lieutenant-Governors no power to conclude treaties and they do not possess the power to legislate.

(3) Agreements between governments are not treaties as the word is used in the B.N.A. Act and in this respect Lieutenant-Governors, in council, or acting on the advice and with consent of provincial legislatures, have exclusively as ample and plenary powers within the provincial sphere of legislation as have the Governor-General and Parliament within the Dominion sphere.

(4) The Dominion government has no constitutional power to enter into international agreements binding provinces with respect to matters within provincial competence. It has no power to carry out by legislation within the provincial field the terms of such agreements.

(5) It is not necessary to wreck the Canadian constitution, destroy the autonomy of the provinces, or set up a Fascist state at Ottawa in order to carry out a programme of social reform, as the B.N.A. Act gives the Dominion government ample authority to legislate for national needs under the heading "peace, order and good government." Such legislation, if truly national and of general application, would be valid.

Mr. Roebuck said Ontario was not attacking the general features of the three statutes.

What Ontario objected to, Mr. Roebuck said, was the Dominion attempting to uphold the legislation by its treaty-making powers. Ontario believed the Dominion had the necessary power without resorting to Section 132 of the B.N.A. Act. It would be his contention, he said, that the three statutes were valid, not because of Section 132 but because of Parliament's power to legislate for the peace, order and good government of the country as a whole.

The B.N.A. Act, he submitted, did not empower Governor-General or Lieutenant-Governors to do so. It did not give them the power to legislate but, if through constitutional practice the Governor-General had this power, so had the Lieutenant-Governors of the provinces.

It was Mr. Roebuck's contention that the provincial Lieutenant-Governors had the same powers and limitations in their legislative fields of the provinces as the Governor-General had in the Dominion. If it was the prerogative of the Governor-General-in-Council to ratify a treaty it was also the prerogative of every provincial Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

MOVE FOR CHANGES IN THE B.N.A. ACT

Ottawa, Jan. 27.—A determined effort to obtain for Canada the right, within certain limitations, to amend her own constitution without recourse to the United Kingdom Parliament, will be launched here Wednesday, Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, will convene the Dominion-provincial committee of law officers and experts to carry on the task taken up at the conference here in December.

It is anticipated the Attorney-General or his deputy will be present from each province, and Mr. Lapointe will be assisted by a corps of legal and constitutional experts.

According to the report from the constitutional committee adopted at the Dominion-Provincial Conference in December, this body was instructed to meet again when convenient and attempt to reach agreement on a petition to be ultimately presented to the United Kingdom Parliament. Its purpose would be to obtain an amendment to the British North America Act, which would place with the Dominion Parliament the power to amend the eight-year-old document which is Canada's written constitution.

The constitutional conference was to have met to-morrow, but all government departments, in common with business in general throughout Canada, will be closed on that day in conformity with the proclamation of a public holiday to be devoted to mourning for the late King George V.

before Chief Justice J. A. Macdonald. The finance minister will spend the next few weeks hard at work on the provincial budget for 1936-37, on which he started before leaving for Ottawa. His present object is a budget-balanced on operating account, like that of last year.

He also has a problem to face in provincial maturities for large sums which fall due this spring. On February 15, two issues, for $3,000,000 and $2,000,000 fall due and on May 15 another for $3,500,000 will mature.

It has not been officially indicated whether British Columbia will require federal assistance in meeting these loans but, if so, provincial circles will watch with keen interest the federal government's answer in view of its apparent policy to cut down on financial aid to the provinces.

"Al" Smith Stirs U.S. Democrats

RECALLS WORDS OF 1928

A quick reply to Smith came from Secretary of the Interior Ickes. Speaking to a Town Hall audience yesterday evening, Ickes referred to Smith's charges that New Deal policies are socialistic.

"Mr. Smith," Ickes said, "spoke of the flag of the goddess union of the Soviet, but what did Al Smith say in 1928 in reply to Hoover?"

Then Ickes went on to say that Herbert Hoover had accused Smith of trying to lead the nation into socialism, and that Smith had replied: "The cry of socialism has been shouted by powerful interests. That is to put a damper on progressive legislation."

"I have heard it raised by reactionary elements and Republicans in my state for a quarter of a century."

QUOTES WORDS OF 1933

Speaking in the same forum, Senator Barkley, Kentucky Democrat, referred ironically to "those who had become apostles of Thomas Jefferson in the last two months."

"In January, 1933," Barkley said, "Governor Smith suggested the creation of a public works dictator and declared the United States constitution should be placed on the shelf during the emergency."

A wave of goosecreek seldom equalled in the capital followed Smith's onslaught on the New Deal, made in a speech to the American Liberty League dinner here Saturday evening.

How far would Smith go on that "talk"—a word which was generally interpreted to mean a bolt from the convention? Would he strive actively to unseat President Roosevelt, even to the extent of backing another ticket; or would he merely retire to an inactive status, perhaps taking a trip to Europe during the campaign?

Followers were some of the many questions being asked as political experts sought to foretell the effect on Mr. Roosevelt's fortune at the polls.

REMAINS DEMOCRAT

They recalled that Smith had said he would remain a Democrat. His statement that he was not a candidate and would not lift a hand to obtain any nomination led many to rule out the possibility that he would head a rival ticket.

"MAN GONE WRONG"

Senator O'Mahoney, Montana Democrat, called it the "speech of a great man gone wrong." Secretary Capper, Republican, Kansas, termed it "a great speech, showing a lot of courage."

Joett Shouse, president of the Liberty League, said the league had received more than 1,500 telegrams, about 50 per cent commending Smith.

There was no doubt in the minds of any observers that the breach between President Roosevelt and former Governor Smith had become wider than ever before. It is a gap that has been broadening for several years.

associates, would not accept the nomination of any possible insurgent Democratic group for the United States Presidency.

In the narrower circles of those close to the former governor and 1928 Democratic Presidential nominee, it was emphatically believed to-day he not only would not be a candidate, but would refuse to be drafted.

That Smith opened the way for a major split in the Democratic Party, no one denies. But neither Smith nor any of the other anti-New Deal Democrats are able at this time to estimate what strength any insurgent Democratic group could mobilize.

COUGHLIN'S OPINION

Detroit, Jan. 27.—Rev. Father Charles E. Coughlin describes Saturday evening's meeting of the American Liberty League in Washington as the opening barrage in "the sham battle between the ins and the outs."

"On one side," he said, in an address yesterday, "are the bankers, the monopolistic manufacturers and the munition makers. On the other side are the bankers, the monopolistic manufacturers and the munition makers. As usual, in the middle, are the American people."

"Sooner or later, the New Deal was destined to be subjected to a withering fire. No one denies the American Liberty League's aim was deadly—and effective. We heard much about the constitution, but not one word was said about restoring to Congress the right to coin and regulate the value of money, which right is one of the pillars of our constitutional government, and which right is vehemently opposed by the disciples of the American Liberty League."

Mr. Smith's address Saturday evening was broadcast throughout the United States. Many in Victoria heard him.

Six Others Hurt When Vehicle Overtakes Near Salmó, B.C.

Canadian Press

Salmó, B.C., Jan. 27.—Two persons were killed, a woman suffered a possible fracture of the jaw and five other persons received minor injuries yesterday when a truck in which members of the Nelson, B.C. ski club had come here for a tournament, overturned on the highway.

Those killed were: Miss Jean Smith, nineteen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Smith, Nelson, and Roy C. Bradshaw, thirty-three, druggist of Nelson.

Seriously injured is Miss Tina McLean with a possible fracture of the jaw.

Others in the truck who suffered minor injuries and shock were Dr. Ray C. Shaw, Miss Val Houle, Mrs. Alex. Fleming, Dr. David Wilkinson and Robert Horswill, alleged driver of the truck.

Reports stated the driver attempted to swerve the truck to miss three pedestrians and it jumped a rut, mounted a bank beside the highway and turned over.

Reports to provincial police headquarters to-day said a charge of manslaughter had been laid against the truck driver.

Jewish Exodus From Germany Is Planned

Fund of $15,000,000 to Be Raised For Assisting 100,000 Jews to Emigrate to Palestine, Canada, Britain and U.S.

Associated Press
St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 27.—Leaders of world Jewry here have announced additional details of plans for a race exodus from Germany.

Sir Herbert Samuel, former British High Commissioner to Palestine, said a definite method would be formulated within a few days to provide for the gradual emigration of at least 100,000 of the German Jewish population.

As many refugees as possible will seek haven in Palestine. Others, as immigration laws permit, will be taken to Canada, England, the United States and European countries free from anti-Semitic restrictions.

The undertaking, strikingly parallel to the saga of the forty-year trek of Moses and his Biblical band, will be financed by a fund of approximately $15,000,000, raised jointly by the contributions of sympathetic British and American Jews.

OTTAWA AWAITS WORD
Ottawa, Jan. 27.—The Immigration Department was without information to-day on the details of the plan to transfer 100,000 Jews from Germany, chiefly to Palestine, but also to other countries which have no anti-Semitic laws. Canada has no immigration laws restrictive with respect to race or creed, except the Chinese Immigration Act, it was said here.

NEW THEORY OF SPACE IS TOLD

Walter Russell, U.S. Sculptor, Says One Universal Thing Is Force

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press, Science Editor
New York, Jan. 27.—Walter Russell, the sculptor and artist, presented to a group of scientists here yesterday evening a simplified picture of space, holding that space and solid matter are merely two opposite phases of the same thing.

This is a universal thing, he said, the force. He said that Professor Albert Einstein, whose ideas of space curvature stormed the scientific world, had asked him to explain the new force-space ideas. Prof. Einstein was listed as one of the guests at the meeting which was held by the Eastern Electronic Research Association.

Illustrating, Mr. Russell said, the earth is not, as science believes, a magnet with North and South Poles. Instead the earth is between the positive and the negative poles of two magnets in space. The solid earth is the force collected between these two poles, a collection filling what would otherwise be a vacuum hole.

The same principle he said holds true for the substance of everything, from the smallest corpuscle to the greatest nebula in the heavens.

LAW OF ELECTRICITY
Mr. Russell said that Colom's fundamental electric law that "opposite charges attract and like charges repel" is untrue. He attempted to demonstrate that actually negative electricity seeks negative, and positive also like like.

What happens, he held, is that positive and negative matter while seeking their "likes." In the meeting they destroy each other, and each one is reborn again as electricity, which under the laws of conservation of physics is the substance of all solid matter.

UNIVERSAL FORCE
Under Mr. Russell's idea, matter can change into space, and vice versa. Matter, from man to stars, is then part of the universal force. From this he finds the following picture of the essentials of creation which man sees or feels.

"Positive electricity is a centrifipetal flow of energy toward a vortex. Negative electricity is a centrifugal flow of energy away from a vortex. Gravitation is the desire of positive electricity to seek higher pressure. Radiation is the desire of negative electricity to seek lower pressure."

GIRL'S DEATH IS MYSTERY

Beautiful Miss Roumania May Have Died From Poison on Toothbrush

Bucharest, Roumania, Jan. 27.—A weird mystery of sudden death with beautiful "Miss Roumania" as the victim and a tooth brush as the suspected lethal weapon has left Bucharest police up against a dead end.

They denied reports circulated abroad Saturday that an engineer and confessed mixing poison with the toothpaste of Tita Cristescu, the toast of the capital, whose strange death now is believed to have been caused by a subtle and deadly venom.

Not long before her death Tita had been adjudged "Miss Roumania," the prettiest girl in the land, in a nation-wide poll.

The original theory of suicide was discarded after a chemist had found traces of a rare poison in the girl's bloodstream and after police had established she could have had no ready access to such a deadly agent. Then it was discovered the actress's toilet articles had been dipped in the poison. Investigators found traces of it on her toothbrush, lipstick, eyebrow tweezers and even on the metal springs with which she set her curls before appearing at the Queen Marie Theater.

Detectors expressed the belief the toothbrush was the implement of death.

VOYAGER HASTENS TO BIER OF KING

Canadian Press from Havas
London, Jan. 27.—Evidence of the esteem in which the late King George was held throughout the empire was furnished yesterday by a Canadian who was among the thousands passing the sovereign's bier in Westminster Hall.

While awaiting his turn he told a newspaperman he came from Winnipeg. He said he had learned of the king's death while aboard ship and came direct to London, postponing a business engagement in Glasgow.

"All my life I had hoped to see the King," he said. "Now I shall walk past his coffin and return to Canada with greater understanding of what the empire means than I had seen King George alive."

LIFE OF GEORGE V TOPIC OF SERMONS

Lessons Drawn From Career of Late King in Churches All Across Canada

Canadian Press

Toronto, Jan. 27.—Almost without exception the theme of sermons yesterday in the churches throughout Canada was the life of the late King George V, and the inspiration for service that could be drawn from the monarch's whole career. His royal qualities as a ruler and his domestic virtues as a family man, a devote Christian and one who bore with fortitude and humanity all his heavy responsibilities as sovereign over one quarter of the people of the globe were emphasized and lauded.

IN FEDERAL CAPITAL
At St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Ottawa the Governor-General attended worship and read the lesson.

There and elsewhere the preacher reminded his congregation of the late King's life and what it exemplified. In the Roman Catholic churches special prayers were said for the repose of the King's soul, while a message written by Archbishop Forbes was read out at all masses.

Throughout the Maritime Provinces many memorial services were held, a number of them under the aegis of the Canadian Legion, and attended by bemuddled veterans.

PRAYERS FOR KING EDWARD
Similarly in the central provinces memorial services marked the first Sunday following the death of King George. At each congregation prayers for blessings on his successor, King Edward VIII.

Western Canada also went to church and heard words in praise of King George's reign. The message he uttered to the Empire of Christmas Day was recalled, while the manifestations of affection accorded him last May, on the occasion of his Silver Jubilee, was remembered as a spontaneous tribute from a devoted people.

There were sermons in many churches in British Columbia. Tuesday being a day of national mourning, it is likely special services will be held in most Canadian churches, with the period of two minutes silence being observed at 1:30 p.m.

He died in a Seattle hospital yesterday, victim of a heart ailment.

Mrs. Jessup, John and Wilford, and Cora, before she became Mrs. Wilson, assisted Mr. Jessup in developing his successful publishing business.

Mr. Jessup acquired The News-Searchlight, a weekly, in 1910 from Roy S. Hayward. His sons tell of how their father made the down payment with an overdraft cheque that was held by a friendly banker until the new publisher got his feet on the ground.

Death Decreed For Five Spies

Sixteen Given Varying Prison Terms in Eastern Siberia

Associated Press

Khabarovsk, U.S.S.R., Jan. 27.—Five members of an alleged espionage ring, accused of seeking to prepare the way for military "intervention in the Soviet Union from Manchukuo, were sentenced to death yesterday by a Far Eastern military tribunal.

The sixteen others on trial were given varying prison terms.

Published reports of the trial said the espionage ring had "received orders from a foreign military mission in Manchukuo." This was generally interpreted as being a reference to Japan.

One of those sentenced to death—which will be by shooting—is George Semena, a Russian described as one of the leaders of a white guard organization in Harbin, Manchukuo.

Press reports said all the defendants had confessed. Semena was said to have admitted the white guards were co-operating in a programme calling for "improvement of the Soviet country with the aid of foreign bayonets."

MILITARY INFORMATION

The spies, some of whom also were accused as agitators, were alleged to have made their headquarters in the Manchukuo town of Sane Akuo. From there the spies reportedly made periodical trips into Soviet territory, sending back photographs of defence works and information concerning military centres.

Few New Faces On Municipal Bodies

Reeve Alex. Lockley Returned in Esquimalt; Two New Councilors in Saanich; Esquimalt Has Close Contests

Seven new members were elected to administrative bodies of Esquimalt, Oak Bay and Saanich, in the municipal elections on Saturday. The remainder of the nineteen vacancies were filled by re-election of the present incumbents.

In Esquimalt, where the campaign was the keenest in years, Reeve Alex. Lockley defeated James Erick, former reeve, by a margin of ninety-four out of a total of 789 cast.

Two of the three retiring members of the council, Thomas Hadfield and David A. Henry, were re-elected, and the new man was Clarence L. Pullen, who led the poll.

While he was unsuccessful for the reeve, Mr. Erick succeeded in winning a seat on the school board, with Major A. A. Warder and Reeve Lockley both re-elected members. Major Warder led the poll, with Mr. Lockley second.

Charles Hawthorne, nominee of the ratepayers' association for police commissioner, won that vacancy by a fair majority over G. B. Bowden, the incumbent, in a three-cornered fight. Former reeve Albert Heald was third.

Councillor E. C. Warren won an overwhelming victory from Dennis Hoare, ex-councillor, by a 232 maority. Councillor W. R. Woods was returned with a marked vote of confidence when he was approved by the ratepayers of Ward Four with a vote larger than the combined total of his two opponents. His majority was 130 over W. N. Galdie and 212 over Iden Rogers.

Lewis W. Goddard was returned to the police commission by a small majority of fifty-one over James Pickard.

The zoning by-law in Ward Three, approval of which by the ratepayers was a foregone conclusion, was approved by a vote of 120 to forty-one. Action on this measure will now remain with the council.

The last-minute entry of Ray F. Castle into the Oak Bay contest had little effect on the polling in which J. V. Johnson, W. L. Woodhouse and R. O. Gibbs were elected to the council.

Mr. Johnson headed the poll with 369 votes; Mr. Woodhouse was second with 361 votes; Mr. Gibbs third with 357, and Mr. Castle fourth with 314.

It was Oak Bay's first municipal polling day in five years and only 422 persons voted out of the total of 2,823 eligible.

REASON YOUR PLAYS

Had Opponent Stopped to Figure Cards Declarer Held, He Could Have Defeated the Contract

By WM. E. MCKENNEY
I believe you will find 1936 contract a better and more enjoyable game. When contract started, mathematics

wit. You have to try to outwit your opponents. An example of that is given in to-day's hand.

THE PLAY
Against three no trump, West opened the six of spades. South, of course, won the trick with the ace.

Now, before playing to the next trick, he should stop and take inventory. He has two spades, three partner, but now we find 1936 bidding principles are nothing more than methods of reasoning, rather than mathematics.

You will enjoy contract under the predominated in the various systems. Players were taught to count the number of tricks in their hands, to make an opening bid or to raise new system. You will be able to devote more time to the study and the play of the hand, now that all players use practically the same bidding methods.

Remember, bridge is a battle of heart, and two diamond tricks. Where should the other two tricks be developed?

If declarer can get into dummy to take the diamond finesse, and the queen is right, that will develop one trick, and if the club ace is held by West, that would be another one; but that is expecting too much.

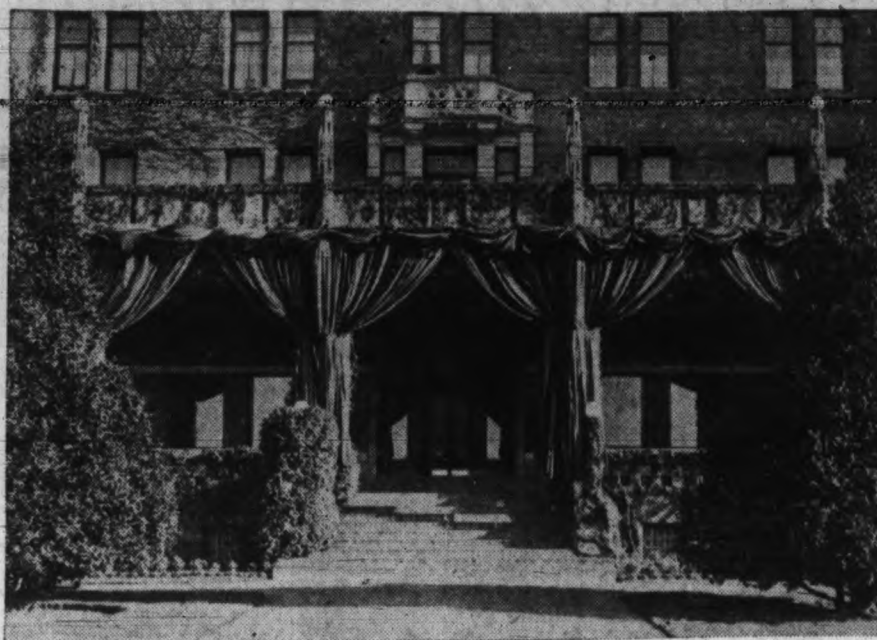

What declarer should do is to lead the seven of hearts, hoping to find the king of hearts in the West hand.

Now, when this hand was played, West played the four of hearts on South's seven and the trick was won in dummy with the ten. The diamond finesse was taken, and declarer made five diamonds, two spades, and three hearts for four no trump.

West, if he had been on the job, could have reasoned that South must have had the ace, queen and jack of hearts to make a heart bid, and therefore should have gone in with his king. That would have defeated the contract.

SUNSHINE INN USE REDUCED

Fewer Meals Served at Institution Here During 1935

A reduction in the number of meals served, with a resulting rise in the cost of each, was reported by Burgess J. Gadsden, manager of Sunshine Inn, in his annual and December reports, released to-day.

Although December showed an operating surplus of $218.44, the year finished with a deficit of $376.76, the report said.

It reads in part as follows: "The December statement showed a cash operating expense of $261.25 against a net income from all sources of $480.69, leaving a surplus for the month of $219.44."

"Four thousand five hundred and two meals were provided freely to applicants, as against 4,818 in December, 1934, and 8,454 in 1933."

"The cost per meal has risen due to the decreasing numbers of persons and during December averaged 5.5 cents each in cash, but in addition I estimate about four cents per meal received by way of contributions in goods, which would bring the cost to approximately ten cents per meal."

"Due to various Christmas functions that were taking place, we held the seasonal special dinner on January 1. Donations of a special nature were made to provide the New Year's dinner and the various donors have already been thanked."

DONATIONS
"The list of cash donations from December 1 to 31, inclusive, follows: Found in Post Office, $2; Sir Frank and Lady Barnard, $50; John A. Grant, $5; K. B. 44; Mrs. Emma Jones, $5; F. W. "A comparative summary for the year shows: 42,063 meals provided in 1935, against 70,959 in 1934, and 112,596 meals in 1933. Cash operating expense for the year of 1935 was $2,307.75, or approximately five and a half cents a meal as against $2,476.12 in 1934, or approximately three and a half cents a meal. A total deficit for the year, 1935, amounts to $376.76, while a deficit of $179.20 was reported at the end of 1934, making a total reduction of reserve during the two years of $555.96."

Rap Wood For Joseph Calleia; Has Not Failed at Any Job

Actor Is Well-hated Villain To-day, But Can Fall Back On Any of Several Tasks He Held In Past Years

By PAUL HARRISON
Staff Correspondent

Hollywood.—A versatile fellow, Joseph Calleia, just now he is in the villain business, but if he ever tires of being hated by the screen fans he can turn to any one of several familiar occupations.

He is pretty good at firing a furnace, and is handy around a car barn. He has played the harmonica professionally, and sings tenor creditably enough that he has earned his keep on a concert tour of Europe and in musical comedy. No Scotsman, he nevertheless can do a Scotch turn in vaudeville, having been exposed to Sir Harry Lauder at an impressionable age.

Mr. Calleia has composed some pieces for the piano, has rewritten one play and adapted one movie, has been a successful stage manager, is writing two original plays in his spare time, and is figuring on becoming a screen director. And if worst comes to worst, he can always go back to selling pianos.

THOROUGHLY LATIN
As to origin, Mr. Calleia is Maltese. Born on the Island of Malta, where his father was, and still is, an architect. His ancestry was Spanish, Italian, German and English, with Latin characteristics dominant in the actor.

Besides being Maltese, Calleia was a black sheep. His three brothers fulfilled conventional destinies as a priest, a college professor and an electrical engineer. Joseph just monkeyed around at play-acting.

His father so strenuously objected to the idea that, when the boy left home to go on the stage, he used his mother's name, becoming Joseph Spurrin. Eight years later, established as an actor in England, he was visited by the formerly outraged father and begged to resume his right name.

As a compromise, he became Joseph Spurrin-Calleia, and was thus known on Broadway. The "Spurrin" was dropped when he ventured to Hollywood, for purposes of simplification.

NOTHING TOO MENIAL
While knocking on wood, Calleia will say that he never has been in a flop show. But there were plenty of times when he was out of a job altogether. Those were the intervals when he worked in a car barn, fired furnaces and sold pianos.

The latter job was selected by shutting his eyes and stabbing a pencil into the help-wanted ads of a newspaper. It was house-to-house canvassing, but Calleia did very well, making two or three sales a week and a tidy commission.

His boss was astonished and deeply grieved when Calleia resigned and explained that piano peddling was not his life's great mission. He had a role in a new show. The agency manager went to see the show, then wrote a little note. It said: "Dear Joe: I will not say you are a bad actor, but you sure are a born piano salesman. We will have a job for you when you want to come back."

UNDAUNTED
But Calleia went right on, to become one of the major menaces of the stage. "Front Page," "The Last

STORIES IN STAMPS

MEXICO'S $7,000,000 DREAM

It took thirty years to complete the edifice that the great dictator, Porfirio Diaz, had planned to represent his country in glorious style. On September 29, 1934, the dream was opened—the impressive, highly ornamented, and extremely costly National Theatre, or Palace of Fine Arts, in Mexico City.

It cost between $7,000,000 and $10,000,000, and even then native Quere-taro marble had to be substituted for the more costly Italian Carrara.

Paintings from the San Carlos Museum grace the marble halls, and the great Diego Rivera has repainted here the striking mural which was destroyed at Rockefeller Centre. Facing a 2,000-seat audience hangs a glass-mosaic curtain costing $250,000.

Stamps illustrating this palace were issued in 1923, and again in 1933 in connection with the International Statistical Congress.

MME. LUPESCU HAS TO SLIM

Weight and Freckles, as Well as Politics, Worry King Carol's Friend

Vienna, Jan. 27.—The always-mysterious movements of Mme. Magda Lupescu, friend of King Carol and reputed to be able to run Roumania pretty much to her liking, caused a new buzz of speculation to-day.

Vienna friends of the red-haired beauty, however, said they doubted reports she was aboard the special train which carried Carol to London for the funeral of the late King George V. The reports said Mme. Lupescu planned to leave the train at Paris.

Strict censorship clouds her movements, but it is known Mme. Lupescu, head of the Royal Camarilla in Bucharest and the wealthiest woman of the Balkans, is having her troubles with weight and freckles.

She will be thirty-six years old this year, and recently she became rather plump. Friends convinced her she must regain the slender figure she possessed when she was known as a European beauty.

She ordered a variety of reducing machines which have been installed in her palatial home in Bucharest.

There are, however, more important worries for Mme. Lupescu. Her political enemies never cease their activity to induce her to leave the country.

So far, however, these efforts have been without result.

Arc Welding Used For Large Residences

HEARTHSTONE, a home of unusual size now under construction at Ottawa Hills, Ohio, has the largest welded steel frame ever used in a residence. Walls and floor together use a total of forty-five tons of steel, and the application of arc welding has been so successful that the cost of the completed steel frame will be approximately 6 per cent of the total cost of the house, or only 2 per cent more than comparable wood-frame and floor joists.

Architecturally, the house is of Georgian style with a richly textured stone veneer in pleasing contrast with white wood-trim and entrance motif. In designing the structure the architect, Myron T. Hill of Toledo and the structural engineer, C. Merrill Barber of Cleveland, achieved a logical steel frame which is economical, efficient, well-insulated and free from special patented features and interference with architectural features.

All welding, whether in the shop or in the field, was done with electric arc, using a portable General Electric welding generator driven by a gas engine for the field work. The electrodes used were of the heavily coated General Electric type.

The use of the all-welded steel frame, together with five-inch stone veneer, metal-lath and plaster, and spaces filled with waterproof mineral wool insulation, thoroughly meets the desire of the owner for a fire-proof home with minimum upkeep and elimination of shrinkage and settlement cracks.

U.S. DANCES TO AID CRIPPLES

Over $1,000,000 Anticipated From 5,600 Balls Thursday

Associated Press
New York, Jan. 27.—The United States will dance next Thursday night for her 200,000 infantile paralysis sufferers who cannot.

It will be the third consecutive year in which President Roosevelt has been honored on his birthday by a nationwide charity in which he has long been deeply concerned. A charity for the relief of persons afflicted with infantile paralysis.

Again, as was the case in 1934, the Warm Springs, Ga., foundation will be a direct beneficiary from the sale of tickets to the 5,600 affairs which will be held. Receipts in 1934 went entirely to Warm Springs. Last year the Georgia Foundation did not share in the proceeds.

The arrangements for 1936 provide the 70 per cent of the money realized will remain in local communities; the other 30 per cent going to Warm Springs.

Officials are making no predictions as to the financial returns of next Thursday's parties, but they hope to exceed 1934's $1,000,000 and 1935's $1,070,000.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

DON'T REGRUDGE THE 'TEEN AGE YOUTHS THEIR SLANG

Just as the ignorant young housewife uses canned foods to shield her family from her culinary ineptitude, so does the adolescent use canned conversation to mask the dearth of her vocabulary.

"Jennie," pleads her mother, "surely you can drop that book for long enough to help me. I'm so busy."

"Says you," retorts Jennie, and goes on with her reading.

"Do you have to say that?"

"Say what, mother darling?" innocently.

"Oh, says you,—it sounds so tough and uncouth."

DOES IT—OR DOES IT?

"Does that burn me up—or does it burn me up?" says her flippant daughter—"but that's what you think!"

And so it goes. "Okeydoke," is the final affirmation to every acceptance. "Oh boy, oh boy, oh boy," marks the ultimate in enthusiasm. "I'll be seen," the inevitable good-by.

By such canned phrases the adolescent saves herself thought and gives herself the appearance of a glib and facile conversationalist. Let's forgive the adolescents this ammunition. They do need repairs and even if it's cut and dried and tiresome it's better than a yawning silence and an aching inability to think of anything to say.

SLANG'S PURPOSE

No one need quarrel with current slang put to such uses. It gives the growing child some satisfying difference from the adult generation. Its glib, ready-made phrases serve the child's need for poise in strange new social situations.

But let it die when those purposes have been served. Nothing is so distasteful as the canned conversation of adults who have outgrown this period but retain slang in the belief that it makes them seem young. So it does, and exceedingly stupid, also.

To-morrow: Written Record of Baby's Day May Point Out Ways to Improve Schedule.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

OLD-FASHIONED—AND GOOD

By MARY E. DAGUE

The good old days have come back to the kitchen, at least. The need for economies has brought back to popularity on thousands of family tables the old favorites—dishes for which our grandmothers were so famous—chicken pot pie, pot roast, deep dish fruit pie, fish balls, light biscuits and many others. Here are recipes handed down to me. They reveal a trick or two which makes success certain with these newly discovered old dishes.

Chicken pot pie, tiny silver-skinned onions in cream sauce, cabbage and grapefruit salad and sponge cake with whipped cream or deep dish apple pie, ought to put you in right with the family at any dinner time soon.

CHICKEN POT PIE

One fowl, 2 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons butter and other shortening combined, 1 egg, ¾-cup milk.

Choose a fowl weighing about 4 pounds. Clean and disjoint. Put in a deep kettle and add boiling water to cover. Bring to the boiling point, skim and add salt, about 4 teaspoons. Cover kettle closely and simmer until tender. Allow thirty minutes to the pound. Just before serving make a gravy by stirring flour to a smooth paste with a little cold water. Use 1 tablespoon flour for each cup of chicken stock. In the meantime, prepare the biscuit dough as follows:

Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder. Cut in shortening. Add egg well beaten with half the milk. Cut liquid into dry mixture with a case knife, adding more milk to make a soft dough. Toss on a well-floured molding board and roll into a sheet about ¼-inch thick. Cut in diamonds and drop into the kettle of boiling gravy and chicken. Cover closely and cook for twelve minutes without removing the cover. If you cover the kettle with a heat-proof glass lid you can watch and see exactly what is happening.

Serve on a large platter, passing extra gravy in a separate bowl.

I always buy apples by the half bushel. They fill in the gap after school and before dinner time for hungry schoolboys and are generally popular in my family in salads and numerous desserts that I count them a very good investment.

DEEP DISH APPLE PIE

Four or five cups sliced tart apples, 1 cup light brown sugar, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, 3 tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons water, plain pastry.

Peel, core and slice apples. Mix and sift sugar and spices and add to apples with butter and water. Butter a shallow baking dish or casserole and invert a small cup in the centre. Then fill the dish with apple mixture. Roll plain pastry about ¼-inch thick and cut shapes in it. Fit over baking dish and crimp edge. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for ten minutes and then reduce the heat to 375 degrees F. and bake until apples are tender, about forty minutes longer.

Modern Housing Bureau Opened

STIMULATED by the success of its demonstration home building programme, the General Electric Company, through C. E. Wilson, vice-president, has announced the formation of the General Electric home bureau to co-ordinate more effectively its services for the benefit of architects and prospective home-builders. Carl M. Snyder has been named manager of the new department, which will have its headquarters in the G-E building in New York City. The new bureau will continue present activities and enlarge its services to the end that all interested in the housing field may be materially assisted.

The new department will furnish an advisory and sales service to architects, engineers, and others desiring a complete check of specifications affecting adequate wiring and lighting layouts, heating and air conditioning, electric kitchens, laundries and other divisions represented by the products of the company manufactured for the home. In common with many large companies merchandising a variety of products for the home-building industry, General Electric has recognized the desirability of co-ordinating its services for prospective builders, Mr. Wilson announced. This centralization of services will not conflict with the specific obligations of individual departments to their customers. It was also pointed out that the company in no way contemplates an architectural planning or building operation, and that it will limit its services to that of consultant only to the architectural and building professions.

ASKS CHANCE TO "IRON OUT" U.S. SENATE

Mrs. Thomas B. Schall, widow of Minnesota's blind senator, is shown at her home as her candidacy for the U.S. Senate seat vacated by Schall's death was announced. Politics has been a large part of her life for twenty years, she explained, and declared that, as an old-style patriot, she would continue Schall's attacks on the administration. Her candidacy will carry on the senator's feud with Gov. Floyd B. Olson, also a Senate candidate.

$69.50 ★

—Easy Terms Arranged

From its comfortable pistol grip to the rubber bumper on its famous "Wonder Nozzle," the Royal "Purifier" is a marvel of thoughtful, practical design. The greatest reason for its popularity—an advantage which, to our knowledge, cannot be claimed for any other cleaner—is this: the Royal "Purifier" STERILIZES THE MYRIADS OF DANGEROUS GERMS THAT LODGE IN THE DUST ON THE FLOOR! You will realize the significance of this great step forward in home sanitation next time you are sweeping in front of a sunlit window.

We would be glad to explain this sanitizing action further. Call at our Douglas Street store, or phone for a free home demonstration. No obligation.

★ These prices are also in effect at the National Utilities Corporation store in Port Alberni.

The Royal De Luxe

The Royal De Luxe is the twin of the "Purifier," but it has not the sterilizing grill above the nozzle. In action, it is a wonder of ease and efficiency. Its wide, tapering nozzle gets under low furniture, radiators, and close up to baseboards—it even has a rubber bumper to protect woodwork!—while its extremely powerful, deep-reaching suction, aided by a gentle "floating" brush, gets every speck of dust. It keeps the house SPOTLESS... with a minimum of work. The De Luxe has all Royal's mechanical refinements—the only sweep required is a thorough-cleaning every three years! Phone for a free demonstration in your own home... no obligation.

The GOLDEN FEATHER

by Robert Bruce © 1935 NEA Service, Inc.

Feeling dully that he had played her last card and lost, Jean turned like an automaton and started back. The light went out, and the guard plodded along close behind her.

They went a few rods, and she found strength enough to protest. "What right have you to do this?" she asked, stopping and turning to face the man. "Who are you? Who are all these people? Why can't I go away if I want to?"

There was a short silence, then the man chuckled drily. "You mean you don't know who the big red-head is?" he asked. "No, of course I don't know who he is."

"Well, sister, he's nobody at all. Nobody at all—but Red Jackson. And no molly that ever tied up with his mob better to cop a snafu without feeling awful sorry for it."

CHAPTER XI

When Larry Glenn arrived in Portsmouth he went at once to police headquarters, where he found Detective Sergeant Mike Hagan talking with a broad-shouldered, swarthy chap whom he introduced as Sergeant Doyle, of the Portsmouth force.

"Tell us the story again," said Mike. "I have been giving it to Doyle here, as I remembered it, but I may have left out something."

So Larry outlined the situation in detail, telling how the Jackson gangsters had been traced to the Eagle farm, outside of Middletown, and how a mysterious telephone call had announced that they were going to French Pete's.

"Have you any kind of a notion where or what French Pete's might be?" asked Larry. "The call came from Portsmouth, so I'm assuming it might be somewhere in this neighborhood. Ever hear the name before?"

Doyle slowly shook his head. "I wouldn't say I never heard the name," he said. "It sounds sort of familiar, somehow. . . . But I'll be hanged if I can place it." He was silent for a moment, frowning; then he shook his head again.

"There's just a chance," said Larry. "That we might get a lead from Washington. Before we left, I called the Division and asked them to see if they had anything on it. They're calling me here, to-night, if they have. But it's a slim chance—actually slim."

They fell silent for a time; then the plain-clothes men who had been sent to the bus station from which the call had been made came in to report that a careful check there had failed to disclose any information whatever about the fugitives.

"I didn't expect it would," said Larry glumly. "How's anybody in a place like this going to remember who went to the pay-station booth to make a phone call? You've got one chance in a thousand."

The desk telephone buzzer sounded, and Doyle answered. He held the receiver up to Larry with the remark, "For you—Washington."

Larry took the phone and held a monosyllabic conversation. At last he hung up and turned to Doyle and Hagan.

"Well, for what it's worth—which isn't much—here's all the Washington files we've got," he said. "They've checked their list of gangster aliases and they have one French Pete listed. He was a booze racketeer, back in prohibition days. Used to run whiskey from Detroit down through the middle-west. Both Portsmouth and Dover were on his route, apparently. But he was shot to death by rival gangsters back in 1928. So that's that."

Mike Hagan suddenly banged the desk with his fist. "Hey—I remember, now," he said. "That guy—listen, Larry, maybe there's a lead in this, after all. Back about 1925 he was pulled in for murdering a village marshal who stopped his truck in some little town between here and Dover. And Don Montague, of Dover, was his lawyer. Montague came down and got him off. I don't remember the details, except that there was supposed to be something funny about it. Montague was supposed to have got to the local prosecutor, or something."

Doyle's face lit up with eagerness. "Sure, I remember, too," he said. "It was a funny deal. The gossip was that Montague took this bird they called French Pete for about every thing he had in the way of a fee."

He paused, frowning in his effort to remember. "I got it," he said at last. "This fellow French Pete—his real name was Rubidoux. He used to have a sort of resort on a little lake, over in Lycoming county, before he got into the booze-running racket. Anyhow, he'd held onto it, and the talk was that Montague made him sign it over to him as part of his fee."

"Where is it?" asked Larry quickly. "I never knew, exactly," said Doyle. "But old Tom Thornton would know, though. He's been on the force for twenty-five years, and he never forgot anything in his life."

He opened a door into another room and bawled, "Hey, Thornton—come in here a second, will you?"

A grey-haired, mild-looking detective came in and faced them inquiringly.

Remember that bird Rubidoux, who used to have some sort of resort on a little lake over in Lycoming?" asked Doyle.

Thornton nodded. "Where was it, exactly?" asked Larry.

"Well," said Thornton, "it used to be the country-home of some rich man from Dover. Later it was a sort of country club. Then Rubidoux got it. Anyhow, it's tucked away off in the woods, about two-three miles north of the main highway—U.S. 120—around ten miles east of here, or such a matter."

"Could you take us to it?" asked Larry.

Thornton pondered, then nodded. "I'll think about it," he said. "They're relocated one or two of the roads in there, but I think I could find it."

Larry got up. "Then let's go," he said. "It may be a bum steer—but it's all the steer we've got. Take me in and let me talk to your chief, will you?"

So Larry went in to talk with the Portsmouth chief of police, while Tony LaRocca, at his instruction, hurried to telephone the Lycoming county sheriff; and both of these officials promised full co-operation, to the extent of their ability.

An hour later three police cars drew to a halt at the concrete bridge that marked the county line. In them were Larry Glenn, three other federal agents, Mike Hagan, and the Portsmouth chief of police with a dozen of his best men—all heavily armed. Beyond the bridge waited another car, with the Lycoming county sheriff and four deputies carrying riot guns. The cars stopped and Larry and the Portsmouth chief held a brief consultation with the sheriff; then they all started off again, with Thornton sitting beside Larry in the leading car to point out the route.

Twice they made wrong turnings. As Thornton said, some of the roads in this part of the county had been relocated in recent years; once they followed an execrable road that petered out, at last, in somebody's farmyard, and a little later they found themselves pulling up in front of a deserted country school house, with tree trunks croaking derisively in the surrounding grove.

But at last Thornton held up his hand and a signal at a crossroads and confidently told the driver to turn to the left.

"I've got it now," he said. "We take this road for about a mile, or a little less, and then we turn left on a little lane that goes into the woods."

OLD BOYS WIN RUGBY MATCH

University School Graduates Defeat Picked City League Team 10 to 3

Forgotten men of past rugby wars mustered again on Saturday to show a picked senior city league team they still remembered enough of the game to teach the younger crop a thing or two. Under the leadership of Reg. Wenman, Old Man of the Mountain, University School Old Boys, several of whom starred on local fields a season or two ago, drubbed the city reps 10 to 3 before a fair crowd at Macdonald Park.

The reps were weakened when the Garrison players picked for the match walked out on the team, but they were strong enough to set up a three-point lead in the first half and hold it until fifteen minutes after the rest interval.

John Forbes, young city fullback, kicked a free kick for the team's lone points.

Badly disorganized, the Old Boys failed to show anything spectacular with the exception of "Boney" Hamber's smart kicking in the first half, but they gained cohesion as the game progressed.

OLD BOYS SCORE

Fifteen minutes from the rest period, Dick George sent an attempt for goal winging towards the uprights. His effort missed, but one of the city leaguers knocked on to give the Old Boys a scrum under the posts. Tisdall got the ball away clean to Wenman. Wenman passed to Miller, who juggled it and passed on to Skilling. Skilling streaked down the side-lines and went over. George converted from an almost impossible angle.

Four minutes later Tisdall took the ball from a scrum on the city league team's twenty-five and dummied his way through for a try under the posts. Hamber kicked the convert.

In the closing minutes the Old Boys, showing much better condition than expected, were playing their opponents to a standstill.

Benny McMillan refereed and the teams were:

University School Old Boys—Hamber, Phillips, Miller, Renwick, Wenman, Skilling, Tye, Tisdall, Buller, Walton, Dunlop, Bryden, Neale, George and Campbell.

"The Rest"—Forbes, Burns, Wurtele, Speed, Usher, Symons, Stewart, Beckett, Johnson, McRae, Drummond, Briggs, Osmann, Campbell and Doull.

INTERMEDIATES

In the intermediate division Wanderers White continued on their victorious way with a 31 to 0 victory over the Canadian Scottish, while the Fifth Brigade downed Wanderers Blues 11 to 3. Both games were played at Oak Bay Park.

Two tries each by Murray, Grogan, Fagan and Murdoch, coupled with another by Brown and two converts by Butler Stewart, gave the Whites their total.

Cosier kicked two penalty goals and converted a try by Langdon to give the Fifth Brigade its margin over the Blues. G. Murdoch scored a try for the latter.

DOMINOES IN EASY VICTORY

Defeat Nanaimo 56 to 16 in Exhibition Cage Fixture at High School Gym

Scoring at will, The Victoria Dominos snowed under the invading senior basketball quintette from Nanaimo Saturday evening at the High School gym, 56 to 16 in the main exhibition encounter on the three-game programme staged by the Victoria and District Basketball League.

Island Tug Red Stacks, intermediate quintette, lost to Hoyle-Brown, 41 to 32 in a close battle in the semi-final, while Trade-Ats walked away with Kingham Gillespie 33 to 12 in an exhibition intermediate A tussle.

Despite the fact that Art Chapman, star centre of the championship squad, was not playing due to a slight cold the Dominos had little trouble with the visitors.

The locals got away on their scoring immediately and had registered twenty points before the Cool City squad garnered their initial basket, which was secured by Robertson, eleven minutes after the start of play. It was a gala night for the locals, who scored from all angles and practically when they pleased, in spite of the fact that Nanaimo did all in their power to stop them.

Once or twice Nanaimo did get hold of a wild pass, however, and made it count. The half-time score saw the Dominos with thirty-two points and the visitors with six.

On the resumption of play the Dominos forgot about scoring and practiced plays.

The smaller and less-experienced players from Nanaimo played gamely and scored whenever openings developed, which were very few. All the players on the Dominos team were put on the floor during the evening and given a chance to practice. The locals put on a show for the fans during the last part of play.

Seven referees, who were undergoing floor tests for their B tickets, officiated.

The teams and scores follow:
Dominos—Goldsmith (11), Andrews (9), Martin (8), Peden (19), Mottishaw (4), "Chuck" Chapman (3), Kinnear, McKeechie (2). Total, 56.
Nanaimo—McDougal, Robertson (4), Brown (4), Holt (1), Rafter (3), Houston, Naylor (4), Brown, Total 16.

Howie Brown—Price (4), Robertson (5), Vout (4), Caddell (12), Fleming (6), J. Walker (4), Elliott (2), Campbell (4), Total 41.
Trade-Ats—Reid (4), Featherstone (2), K. Kent (2), D. Gent (3), B. Newman (6), F. Smart (11), B. Price (5). Total 33.

Vancouver, Jan. 27.—North Shore United vaulted over the New Westminster Royals into second place in the Intercity Soccer League Saturday, when they defeated the Vancouver Rangers, 5 to 2, before a crowd of approximately 1,000 fans.

Cleveland In Fine Comeback

Falcons Threaten Leaders in International Hockey League Race

Windsor, Ont., Jan. 27.—It's only a year or so ago that International League hockey was on the point of collapsing in Cleveland, but to-day the Falcons are driving towards first place in the western section.

Falcons are five points back of the front-running Detroit Olympics, 1935 champions, but they show every sign of moving up closer on the faltering men of Donnie Hughes who have squandered a big lead.

Saturday night, the Falcons pulled out a 3 to 2 win over the Olympics when Ken Doraty, Lloyd Gross and Frank Daley punched in second-period goals. Neither of the contenders, however, could win yesterday evening.

Syracuse Stars blanked the Falcons 2 to 0 at Syracuse while Detroit suffered its first home defeat of the season, dropping a 2 to 1 decision to London Tecumseh.

In the other Saturday night game, Buffalo Bisons shutout Pittsburgh Shamrocks 3 to 0, scoring a goal in each period.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

—By John Hix

Strange as it seems, the population of the world has increased more in the past century than it did during all the tens of thousands of years that man has been on earth. In 1830, according to the most widely accepted estimates, the population of the earth was about 850,000,000. During the century that followed, it increased to more than 2,000,000,000, according to be 1930 estimate of the International Statistical Institute of the League of Nations.

Several influences made this great increase possible. Invention, for one thing, made the people of urban centres less dependent upon food from nearby farms for sustenance. Now the city dweller may eat bread made from grain shipped halfway around the world—and famine no longer threatens those in the midst of a local crop failure.

Medicine has also played a great part in the population increase. Today the expectancy of life is much higher—infant mortality has been lowered—and epidemics that once wiped out whole cities are controlled to a great degree by the physician. America, since 1800, has had the greatest proportional population growth. Up to 1880 the population of the New World grew from 10,000 to 90,000—an increase of 900 per cent—and since then the percentage of increase has tapered off. Asia has had the greatest increase by numbers.

Strange as it seems, while the population is growing continually, the birthrate in most countries is steadily declining.

Al Gordon, Race Driver, Killed

Los Angeles, Jan. 27.—Al Gordon, veteran automobile race driver, was injured fatally yesterday in a crash at the Ascot Stadium.

Gordon's car, carrying the mechanic "Spider" Matlock, blew a tire and went into a spin as he was driving desperately to make up lost distance. The machine hurtled over the embankment.

Matlock was pronounced critically injured. Gordon, his skull fractured and his chest crushed, died after his arrival at hospital.

Rex Mays, Riverside, Cal., won the 200-lap race.

Singh Victor Over Leathers

Powerful Hindu Defeats Texas Grappler; DeVora Baptiste Paul Draw

Pinning his opponent in the third and fifth sessions of their eight round mix, Ganda Singh, powerful 245-pound East Indian wrestler, Saturday night downed the Sam "Legs" Leathers, 225-pound Texan, in the main event on the three-bout card staged in the Tillikum gym.

It was the first defeat suffered by Leathers in the local ring. He fought hard and gamely, but it was apparent from the start that it was just a matter of how long Singh would take to pin his opponent. Leathers had the satisfaction, however, of dropping the giant Hindu once during the bout.

Dr. Nap DeVora, wrestler from Providence, Rhode Island, and Baptiste Paul, former local grappler, battled to a no-fall draw in the semi-wind-up. A vast improvement was seen in his previous performances here, and he gave DeVora plenty to worry about.

Administering his vicious Indian deathlock in the final round of their match, Paul figured he would finish the match, but DeVora had other ideas, and slowly and steadily squirmed his way outside the ropes.

Battling in the special and opening bout on the card, Gurdas Singh, clever Hindu wrestler from Vancouver, secured a lone-rail victory over Billy Kohmke, another mainland matman, Singh was in one of his playful moods and pinned the referee on two occasions. He secured his lone fall in the fifth round with a shoulder press and arm stretch.

Fred Richardson refereed the bouts.

Owing to the funeral of King George V being held to-morrow there will be no play to-morrow night on the courts of the Victoria Badminton Club at the Willow.

New York Rangers Get Howie Morenz

Lester Patrick Secures Veteran Centre From Chicago Black Hawks in Straight Trade For Glen Brydson; Morenz Expected to Bolster Faltering Rangers

New York, Jan. 27.—Howie Morenz changed his National League uniform for the second time in his long career with an announcement that New York Rangers had landed the erstwhile Flying Frenchman from Chicago in a straight player deal for Glen Brydson.

The long expected announcement that the veteran centre was leaving the Black Hawks, to whom he went at the beginning of last season, came from the Ranger Club headquarters.

The Blueshirts played in Chicago yesterday evening. It was said the thirty-two-year-old Howie would join the Blueshirts immediately, while the youthful Brydson would be left behind with his new club.

The swap of the two forwards was said to have been agreed upon a few days ago when Earl Seibert, recalled-trait Ranger defenceman, was sent to the Hawks for Art Coulter, another defenceman.

Morenz went to Chicago in a big player deal that sent goalie Lorne Chabot and defenceman Marty Burke west with him in exchange for Lionel Conacher, Leroy Goldsworthy and Roger Jenkins. Conacher was then turned over to Montreal Maroons.

HART TROPHY WINNER
The sensational Morenz, who twice won the Hart Trophy as the most useful team-player in the league, and twice led the circuit in scoring while the hub of the Montreal Canadiens' machine, did not think the expected form in Chicago. Rumors were heard from time to time that he was dissatisfied in his new surroundings.

The speed of which it is believed he still is capable, would be a big asset to the faltering Rangers. Les Patrick's Blueshirts have skidded recently from the leadership of the American division into third place. The way Boston Bruins are barging around, it appears they soon will drop into the cellar unless they shake themselves out of the doldrums.

ESQUIMALT WINS GAME

Defeats Saanich Thistles 4 to 1 in McGavin Cup Football Semi-final

Pushing across two markers in the first, then securing an additional pair in the second half and holding their opponents to one score throughout, a superior Esquimalt soccer eleven won its way into the final of the McGavin Cup series by defeating Saanich Thistles 4 to 1 Saturday afternoon at the Athletic Park in a first division tussle.

Previous to the commencement of the encounter a silent tribute was paid to His Late Majesty King George V. The squads lined up in the centre of the field and spectators bared their heads and stood in silence for two minutes.

The teams battled it out fairly even during the first seventeen minutes of play, although the Dockers had the leather in the Thistles' territory the majority of the time. Esquimalt made their initial major attack on their opponents' goal a few minutes later, when Jimmy Hay let drive with bullet force at the centre of the goal, but Gordie Chalmers, Thistles' goalie, cleared. Keeping up the pressure, Esquimalt minutes later forced two corners.

Two attempts at the goal by Stan Richard, Esquimalt centre, at this time were successfully blocked by Chalmers.

ESQUIMALT SCORES

Twenty-six minutes of play saw the Dockers' corner, then tally. This was secured by "Barney" Barnswell, who let drive a high shot at the corner of the net. Chalmers managed to stop the shot just beneath the bar, but Referee Gull, who ascribed the ball had gone over the goal line awarded a goal. It was a peculiar goal and drew quite a bit of argument from the Thistles' players. Barnswell got the pass from Stewart.

Following the kick-off Esquimalt again took the ball into their opponents' area, where Richard again tried for a goal, but his aim was bad and the ball went past the net. A fine passing movement on the part of the Esquimalt forwards' seconds later resulted in Richard again kicking for a goal. The ball bounced off Chalmers for another corner kick.

A ground shot at this time by Jimmy Worswick was miskicked by Leggett and resulted in Stewart scoring by juggling the ball past the netminder from close in. This finished the scoring of the half and saw Esquimalt leading 2 to 0.

Corby Gent for Williams, Harper for Speller and Glancy for McLean, were the changes made on the Thistles' second half line-up. At the five-minute mark Esquimalt went onto the offensive and Jimmy Worswick boosted his team's score to three when he scored on a beautiful hard shot from a difficult side angle.

Esquimalt secured its final tally when a good combination play between Jimmy Worswick and "Scotty" Stewart resulted in Worswick registering. Corby Gent saved the Thistles from a shutout minutes later when he scored on a forward movement of the Thistles about five minutes before full-time.

The sunny weather was ideal for football players, but the cold north wind was a little uncomfortable for fans. The brand-of football was not exceptionally good, for it was slow in speed and bouncing erratic.

W. J. Gull refereed.

The teams follow:
Esquimalt—De Costa, Joe Watt, Richard, Edwards, Evans, Hay, Barnswell, Stewart, Miller, Worswick, Cook and McBay.

Saanich Thistles—Chalmers, Esler, Leggett, Williams, Crowe, Speller, Murray, Stoffer, Campbell, McLean, J. Murray, Harper, Gent and Glancy.

Touring New Zealand Rugb-ers Smother Vancouver All-stars 32 to 0 Before 10,000; Griffiths and Caughey Outstanding; Play Here Wednesday

Vancouver, Jan. 27.—Rivalry between New Zealand's North Island and South Island was on display this afternoon when rugby teams representing those areas, drawn from the touring All-Blacks, met in their second exhibition game here.

In their first British Columbia exhibition Saturday, the All-Blacks, fresh from a tour of the British Isles in which they lost only three of the twenty-eight games they played in seven months, smothered a representative Vancouver team 32 to 0 to the edification of nearly 10,000 local enthusiasts at Brockton Point.

The New Zealanders uncovered such a wide assortment of rugby lore that the all-star Vancouver cast was completely bewildered during the first half while the visitors rolled up a 21 to 0 lead. Although the Vancouver team recovered somewhat in the second half and even threatened to score on two occasions, their best efforts were no match for the speed and perfect ball-handling of the All-Blacks.

A REVELATION

The famous tourists scored four goals, three tries and a penalty-kick and the manner in which they compiled their total was a revelation to the spectators. The ability they showed gave promise of even finer rugby when they divided their force to-day for the North Island-South Island game. Vancouver players were added to bring the teams up to strength.

The teams will proceed to Victoria for their last game on Canadian soil Wednesday and they will sail for home the same day aboard the liner Aorangi.

As was to be expected, the All-Blacks were amazingly strong in every cog of their perfectly moulded rugby machine. The two five-eighths, Jack Griffiths and Pat Caughey, found particular favor with the crowd Saturday. Griffiths' play-making being brilliant and Caughey taking part in most of the dangerous three-quarter runs. Pat scored two tries himself.

George Gilbert, the great fullback who electrified the crowd of 60,000 in the international game with Wales by kicking a dropped goal from his own side of centre while on the dead run, was prominent throughout with his kicking. Gilbert converted four of the seven tries and put the ball between the bars on a penalty kick in the second half.

HART DANGEROUS
George Hart, the New Zealand sprint champion who participated in the last Olympic games, was probably the most dangerous man in the three-quarter line, he was closely watched. He went over for the first try of the game in the first two minutes and Caughey followed him a couple of minutes later as the All-Black ran wild. Gilbert converted the second try after missing the first.

Bob King, Captain Charlie Oliver and Pepper scored the other tries of the first half, Gilbert kicking the major points on two of them.

Vancouver showed promise of scoring in the second half after Hart had passed to Percy Reid for a fine run and Reid went over for a try which was not converted. Dave Carey had the misfortune to hit the crossbar on a penalty kick and later the same player barely missed when he attempted a dropped kick.

Gilbert booted the ball between the bars on a penalty kick from the forty-five-yard line and McKenzie made the play for the final score when he snared a Vancouver pass, ran forty-five yards and passed to Caughey who scored. Gilbert kicked the goal.

Santa Monica, Calif., Jan. 27.—Paul Chotteau, French athlete, blamed cold water yesterday for his fourth failure to swim the forty miles between Santa Catalina Island and Santa Monica. He was in the ocean for eighteen hours and five minutes.

Blue and mumb, Chotteau was taken from the icy water Saturday night after completing slightly more than one-half of his intended journey. Resting yesterday in hospital, he said he would "try it again" in July.

Score Is 2 to 1 in Each Case; Defeat Drops Rangers Into Cellar

TORONTO SHOWS RETURN TO FORM

Toronto 6, Detroit 1.
Maroons 4, Canadiens 1.
Boston 2, Americans 1.
Chicago 2, Rangers 1.

Just when everyone thought Toronto's drooping Leafs were ready to be swept along toward the National Hockey League's Canadian division cellar, bashful Bill Thoms, the marvel of mid-ice, has come along to lead them in another drive.

William and his curly locks popped up in so many unexpected places Saturday night. Detroit Red Wings were too busy keeping track of him to do much else and Toronto won in a center by 6 to 1.

Toronto's amazing good play, a throwback to their best games of the early season, featured a week-end of only four N.H.L. games. The Leafs' win kept them in step with Montreal Maroons who defeated Canadiens, 4 to 1, in the other Saturday night contest.

New York Rangers dropped into the American section cellar when they lost 2 to 1 to Black Hawks but considered the trip to Chicago a success when they came away with Howie Morenz and left Glenn Bryson behind for Hawks.

BOSTON WINNER

New York Americans couldn't hold a one-goal lead they gained early in the third period at Madison Square Garden and lost 2 to 1 to Boston Bruins when Ottawa's Bill Cowley scored the tying goal and assisted in the winner.

Checking like demons and displaying a scoring punch that has been largely absent since Charles Conacher was injured, Toronto looked almost unbelievably better than Detroit, leaders of the American section.

Wings, who held decisions over Leafs in their other three contests this season, got started. Leafs laid down a barrage in the first period that kept them too busy to do anything but block and smothered almost all their offensive attempts before they got properly away.

Leafs scored three goals in that first period and Detroit got only three shots off the Toronto goal.

That indicated just how much better the Symphens were, their advantage, though wide, wasn't so evident in the later sessions.

Thoms got two goals in the first session and kept Kelly another while Clancy scored in the second and gave Kelly a pass for Leafs' fifth.

Nick Metz finished off their tallying in the final session which saw George Hainsworth robbed of a shutout when Herb Lewis' pass from behind the goal went into the net off Red Horner for Wings' only counter.

Better offensively and defensively, Maroons scored four goals before the veteran Aurel Joliat gave Canadiens their only counter in the game at Montreal.

Playing-manager Lionel Conacher clinaxed a four-man attack with a scoring shot in the first period. Dave Trotter tallied on a solo rush in the second, Bob Gracie got another in the same period and Hooley Smith made it 4 to 0 half way through the third.

Doc Roman worked with Paul Thompson and Mully March for the first Hawk counter against Rangers and Johnny Gottselig and Marty Burke combined for another that gave Hawks a 2 to 0 lead half way through the game.

Frank Boucher scored the only New York marker in the final minute.

Old Nels Stewart gave Americans a one-goal lead with his early third period marker at New York and Red Dutton's team seemed to have the game tied up until Cowley took Teddy Graham's pass for the tying goal.

Lorne Duguid scored the winner, stickhandling through the whole American team after taking Cowley's pass.

HOWIE MORENZ

Morenz rose to his greatest heights as a member of the Montreal Canadiens and played before Victorians during the Stanley Cup series at the Willows Arena in 1925 between the Flying Frenchmen and Cougars.

BLUEBIRDS IN CLOSE VICTORY

Beat Pitzer and Nex 5 to 4 in Saanich Soccer; Meat Market Wins

Scoring from a free kick in the dying moments of the encounter, Bluebirds nosed out Pitzer and Nex, 5 to 4, yesterday afternoon at Hampton Road Park, in the main tussle on the Saanich and District Football League.

Victoria Meat Market shut out the Buxy Bee Cafe 4 to 0 at Bullen Park.

Twenty-five minutes after the commencement of play, Pitzer and Nex and Bluebirds were in a 2 to 2 tie.

The goals were scored by Alexander for the Sea Station squad and Bus Stewart for the Bluebirds. Just before the interval Constable beat the opposing netminder to give Pitzer and Nex a 3 to 2 lead at half-time.

A score by J. Duncan again tied the score, which was followed up minutes later by Melton scoring for the Bluebirds. Dear, new addition to Pitzer and Nex, registered, and once again deadlocked the squads. Just before the final whistle a foul was called against Pitzer and Nex and Cochrane drove a hard shot into the corner of the net.

Stuart Geddes refereed.

Playing a superior brand of football to that of their opponents, Victoria Meat Market had little trouble in beating the Buxy Bee Cafe.

J. Ewing gained the first tally soon after the start of play. Keeping up the pressure for the next ten minutes the butcher boys got their second and final goal of the half when Jimmy Crowe headed in a corner kick.

Five minutes after the resumption of play Alby Clarke hoisted his team's score to three. Billsborough got the final counter about half way through the last session.

Dick DeCosta refereed.

"Not ten per cent of the men in sport to-day are receiving money. There is plenty of amateurism in the Dominion."

Victoria Swimmers In Real Clean-up

Bobby Moss Leads Local Contingent to Victory in B.C. Title Gala at Vancouver With Three Triumphs; Monica Trump Shatters Own Canadian Mark

Vancouver, Jan. 27.—A group of sixteen swimmers, representing three Victoria swimming clubs, were grinning to-day over the lion's share of honors they carried off at the Crystal Pool here Saturday night in the British Columbia swimming gala which saw two Canadian records shattered and two other new Canadian aquatic marks established.

Bobby Moss, fifteen-year-old star of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club, led the squad in victories with three British Columbia championships, while Monica Trump, promising sixteen-year-old star of the same club, was responsible for one of the new Canadian marks when she shattered her own record for the senior women's 200-yard breaststroke.

Little Yvonne Squire, B.C. 50-yard breaststroke champion of the Victoria A.S.C. was acclaimed when she completed the event in the fast time of 40 4-5 to retain the championship. As there is no existing Canadian record for this distance, application will be made to have the Victoria girl's mark set up.

MOLLY WALLIS WINS

Others who performed outstandingly for the invaders were Molly Wallis of the Pacific Amateur Swimming Club, who captured first place honors in one event and second in two others, and Eleanor Peden of the same club, untiring sister of the famed cyclist, who took care of the third place honors in three events.

The junior boys 50-yard freestyle for the B.C. championship, was the first event on the programme, was taken easily by Bobby Moss with a time of 27 flat and he earned his second victory of the night and another B.C. title in the junior boys' 200-yard freestyle event with a time of 2:28 4-5 after a rest, the youngster again took to the water to outswim two local hopefuls in the junior boys' 50-yard breaststroke for another B.C. championship. His time was 36 2-5.

Monica Trump of the Victoria A.S.C., the Canadian and British Columbia senior women's 200-yard breaststroke champion, clipped 3-5 seconds from her own existing record of 3:05 for that event. She easily beat out Betty Cole of the Vancouver A.S.C., her only competitor, with a time of 3:01 2-5.

Molly Wallis, fourteen-year-old member of the Pacific A.S.C., who is remembered here for her victories of last year and who is the holder of the 50 and 100 yards junior girls' freestyle records, made a good show with Jim Ferguson setting the pace at 733. Kay White, with 616, topped the women.

MAKE WESTERN PICTURE FIRST

Last-minute Change of Plans
Is Announced By Central Films Limited

With a last-minute change of plans, Central Films Limited will produce a western picture here before it shoots "Secret Patrol," a mounted police story on which work was to have begun next Monday.

Kenneth J. Bishop, president and producer of the company, received telegraphic orders at the week-end for the change from Columbia Pictures, for whom he is producing in compliance with the British quota regulations.

The director and technical staff for the picture will arrive from Hollywood to-morrow morning. Charles Street and Fennell Barton, who will take the male and female leads, will be here in a few days. Production will start at the beginning of next week.

The mounted police picture will be filmed immediately after the western. Mr. Bishop believes his main locations will be on the Saanich Peninsula, possibly near Sidney. The story requires fairly open country.

SEEKING SADDLES
The main concern of Central Films at present is the finding of western saddles and cowboy equipment in large quantities. The company hopes to be able to secure fifty head of horses from the Kootenai Indian Reserve, which Mr. Bishop visited on Saturday during a tour of the southern island with George I. Warren in search of suitable scenery.

The company is importing a good deal of extra equipment from Hollywood. A large gasoline-driven generator, mounted on a heavy truck, is due to arrive shortly. The generator, which is being loaned by Columbia Pictures, will be used on location when the company is away from power lines. A new camera and more lights are also on their way here.

The Wilsons studio is being improved with extra soundproofing, of a special soft type, to kill an echo. Gas heaters are being installed.

Mild Outbreak
Of Chickenpox

Majority of Cases Confined to Quadra Street School to Date

The largest outbreak of chickenpox which has occurred in the city during the last two years, was reported to-day by Dr. Richard Felton, city medical health officer. The disease was not of a serious nature, but usual quarantine regulations were being carried out, he said.

Since January 11 thirteen cases have been reported, virtually all from Quadra Street School. Prior to that date the number of cases reported since the beginning of the year was eleven.

Commenting on the outbreak, Dr. Felton expressed the hope parents would take special care of their children and take the usual precautionary measures at the slightest hint of contagion. The school has not been quarantined to date but cases are being kept at home to avoid spread of the infection.

The outbreak has not reached epidemic proportions, the doctor said.

Plaintiff Wins
Third of Damages

Joseph Lindal, manager of a sight-seeing bus line, sued John Hamlet, a taxi-operator, for running over his foot with an automobile on Belleville Street near the C.P.R. depot.

Alexis Martin, counsel for Mr. Lindal, argued that Mr. Hamlet had parked his car on the wrong side, facing into the traffic instead of with it. Harry J. Davis, counsel for Mr. Hamlet, took the responsibility was not all on Mr. Hamlet's side.

Judge Lampman to-day assessed the damages to Mr. Lindal's foot at $528, but apportioned the responsibility so that Mr. Lindal received judgment for only one-third, or $176.

The judge said the costs of the trial should be borne two-thirds by Mr. Hamlet and one-third by Mr. Lindal.

"For some time there has been rivalry among the people who are engaged in the sight-seeing bus and taxi business, with the result that a great deal of bitterness has been engendered," the judge commented.

He also pointed out Mr. Hamlet had been guilty of a breach of the requirement to sound his motor horn. This, the judge said, was under the circumstances serious.

Mr. Hamlet had been seen by the judge to look at what was coming and if he had looked he would not have jumped into the way of the oncoming car.

DOMINOISTS PLAY
FOR LOCAL TITLE

"Who holds the domino championship of the world? Here was the deciding game played? What was the score?"

These questions recently submitted to the sports department of a daily newspaper brought forth these replies from the sports editor: 1, "Do you know"; 2, "No information"; 3, "Ditto."

In an effort to do something about this and fill in the domino championship vacancy, at least as far as Victoria was concerned, a group of the leading domino experts of Victoria headed by F. Taylor, got together and arranged a tournament. This has been under way since January 13, with eleven teams now battling towards the finals set for January 31.

Among the well-known local exponents of dominoes now in action are: W. Ryan, H. P. Simpson, J. C. Bridgman, J. H. Beatty, F. G. Hood, C. R. P. Piers, R. C. Rose, Robert Harvey, A. J. O'Reilly, W. T. ISABEL STUART
Collapsing suddenly yesterday while visiting a friend, Mrs. Isabel Stuart, wife of George Stuart of 2615 Werk Street, passed away within a few minutes. Her death came as a great shock to her family and a wide circle of friends.

Mrs. Stuart was born in Scotland fifty-three years ago, and had been a resident of Victoria for twenty-four years. She is survived by her widow, two sons and four daughters, James and Georgina of Vancouver, B.C., and Donald, Jane, Isabel and Eleanor at home, and three sisters and two brothers in Scotland.

Mrs. Stuart was a member of the First United Church, the Burns Club, St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society of Victoria, and the Esquimalt Chapel, Order of Eastern Star.

The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon from McCall Brothers' Funeral Home at 3.30 o'clock. Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., will conduct the service, after which interment will be in Colwood Burial Park.

Vancouver Store
Robbed of $100

Bandits Failed in Other Store; Thieves Take Six
Tons of Coal

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Jan. 27.—Safe-crackers entered two stores of the Sterling Food Markets Limited here over the week-end, escaping with $100 from the store. The alarm was broken from the safe in the other store, but apparently the thieves were unsuccessful in an attempt to open the strongbox.

The safe from which the money was taken was not damaged, as the burglars managed to work the combination.

Robert Harrow, eighteen, is held by police on a charge of robbery with violence following a holdup of Clarke's Dairy, Fender Street, by a lone bandit on Saturday night.

Jack Surrey, clerk, captured the youth after he allegedly had held up a man with a toy pistol, which was found later by police.

Six tons of coal were taken from Mills Coal Co. on 13th Avenue.

Mrs. Catherine Lang reported to police her purse containing $101 in cash and a cheque for $15 was taken from a table in a downtown cafe.

A young couple were the victims of holdup men in the Little Mountain Park area when three masked men took $7 and personal effects from Stanley Licquorish, Lulu Island, and his woman companion as they were sitting in a parked car.

To Congratulate Dr. L. R. Hartman

A motion congratulating Dr. Leroy R. Hartman on his discovery of means of desensitizing teeth, was scheduled to go before the City Council at its meeting to-day.

The motion expresses the city's appreciation of Dr. Hartman's decision to give his discovery to the world without claim for financial return. The motion was drafted by Alderman Archie Willis.

FORT ABOVE BLANSHARD

St. John's, Feb. 27 (Canadian Press)—Newfoundland will be in mourning Tuesday. All government offices, banks and schools were ordered closed by proclamation.

"hanghai, Jan. 27.—Student agitation against what they called Japanese aggression in North China led to an outbreak of rioting in which scores of persons were injured yesterday. Martial law immediately was proclaimed in the Jessfield district where the rioting occurred. Enraged at the arrest of nineteen student orators addressing a crowd, a mob of 1,000 students and others stormed a Chinese police station on the outskirts of the International Settlement. They seized the commanding officer and severely man-handled others. Police reinforcements, including a detachment from the International Settlement, finally dispersed the rioters after a brisk battle in which stones, sticks, bricks and batons were freely used.

WHO READS THE CLASSIFIED ADS?

The answer is simple - Everybody.

At least everybody in the Jones family does. They range from ten-year-old

Tom, who keeps the automobile columns

(and knows how to interest dad), to Madame, who keeps the whole family posted on the personals. In between, the others have read apartment house

plans and old clothes brought home

some mighty nice pets, and saved money on the winter wear. The whole family keeps up with the news, and the

OUT OUR WAY

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

BY WILLIAMS

Big Ships Provide Sea-sick Escape

IF SHIPS more than 700 feet long are used on Atlantic crossings, there are no sea-sicknesses, they are not likely to be sea-sick. This is one of the conclusions reached by the National Physical Laboratory, who have been making an investigation into the behavior of ships in rough weather.

The findings of this and other experiments they have been conducting for the last year and which have now been published they are offering to industry.

So the day when scientific construction will banish sea-sickness for ever may not be far distant.

The laboratory staff have also been conducting experiments into the nature of car accidents. Among the interesting results they have ascertained in this field are:

That colored motor headlights do not reveal objects in a fog any better than ordinary ones, nor do they minimize reflected glare. The only advantage they can have, it is concluded, is that they make drivers more careful with their lessened visibility.

That the damage caused to roads and vehicles by car crashes is not necessarily either greater, or proportional, to high speeds.

Colored motor headlights are very popular in this country in foggy weather. It used to be thought that they revealed objects more easily since the light waves of short wave-length,
such as blue and green, were cut out.

It was also believed that as these short waves are more easily reflected by the particles of water and smoke in the fog, they produced more glare than the longer ones.

MUNICIPAL REEVES FOR 1936

WILLIAM CROUCH
ALEX LOCKLEY
R. R. TAYLOR

In the municipal election held on Saturday Reeve Alex. Lockley was the only one of the above who faced a contest. Reeve Crouch was returned by acclamation for his tenth term as chief executive of Saanich, while Mr. Taylor, a former councillor, resigned his seat to succeed J. W. Mayhew as reeve in Oak Bay. Mr. Lockley defeated James Erick in Esquimalt.

FINE CAST AT THE COLUMBIA

Warner Bros. "The Irish in Us," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien and Frank McHugh in the leading roles, opens at the Columbia Theatre today.

It is said to be one of the most entertaining pictures of the season,
combining riotous comedy with tense
drama, pathos and a most unusual triangular romance, involving the love of two brothers for the same girl.

The cast as well as the director and most of the crew are Irish, including that inimitable trio, Cagney, O'Brien and McHugh as the three sons of Mary Gordon, herself born in Ireland.

Once a happy family, a rift sets in when Cagney and O'Brien fall in love with the same girl, Olivia de Havilland.

J. Farrell MacDonald and Thomas
Jackson also have important roles.
The picture was directed by Lloyd Bacon, an Irishman, despite his English name. The screen play is by Earl Baldwin, based on the story by Frank Oratt.

Stars Have Certain Hours

Hollywood—Bing Crosby and Mary
Boland, who are appearing together in the new feature picture, "Two for
To-night," with Joan Bennett, agree that players, while working, can get best results by retiring early and arising with the birds.

"I go to bed at 9 o'clock, get up at 6, get to the studio, and get made up and ready by 9."

"I find that if I don't keep those hours regularly, I get out of the habit.
When I'm working on a picture, I mean I can't get to sleep."

"When I work," says Miss Boland,
"I mean I used to do this—and get to bed late, and sleep late. The next night, when I should get some rest in preparation for work the following day, I can't get to sleep."

"So when I start a picture I go into training, and keep at it all throughout, until the picture is finished. If I didn't I wouldn't be able to work at all."

Bing Crosby goes one better than Miss Boland. He has the schedule of an hour, and Crosby observes when he is vacationing:

6.30 a.m.—Up, and a walk, before breakfast.

7.30 a.m.—Breakfast.

8.30 a.m.—Horseback riding, for at least an hour.

10 a.m.—Woodchopping, either cutting down trees, or splitting logs, for an hour.

11 a.m.—Swim in the pool for a half hour.

noon—Lunch.

1 p.m.—Golf, six or seven holes.

4 p.m.—Three sets of tennis.

5.30 p.m.—Another dip in the pool.

6.30—Dinner.

7.30 p.m.—A walk, with gun and dog, for a possible shot at a "possum or 'coon."

9 p.m.—Bed.

"Frisco Kid" To Open To-morrow

"Frisco Kid," Warner Bros.' thrilling tale of the glamorous Barbary Coast of old San Francisco, will open at the Dominion Theatre to-morrow with an all-star cast headed by James Cagney, Margaret Lindsay, Ricardo
Cortez and Lili Damita.

The picture is set in the colorful background of the early fifties, when the waterfront at the Golden Gate was a flaming panorama of glided gambling halls and palaces of pleasure; when murder, arson, crimping and robbery was winked at by the authorities who derived huge revenues in bribes from the denizens of the underworld.

The characters are based on historic personages of the time who were "asked to the city of gold from every port in the world—adventurers all, ready to risk their fortunes or their lives on the throw of a dice.

Eleanor Powell At
The Little Orpheum

girl tap dancer, was dancing at the summer Casino at Monte Carlo, when she was offered a place among the stars of "George White's 1935 Scandals," the new Fox Film musical extravaganza now at the Little Or-

CAPITOL THEATRE
More often than not the term "all-star cast" is a misnomer. But such is not the case in the Cosmopolitan production, "Captain Blood," which is now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

At least ten of the players who support Errol Flynn and Olivia de Haviland, youthful and romantic leads, are bona fide stars.

Lionel Atwill, who plays Colonel Bishop, was under starring contract to David Belasco for a period of ten years.

Frank McHugh, a man of fifty years' acting experience, starred three years in John Drinkwater's "Lincoln,"
an international stage hit.

David Torrence and his wife Maude
Leslie were both Shakespearean stars years before beginning film work.

Too Much "In-laws" May Spoil Marriage

Says That Friendship Must Be Cultivated

THERE is no other one thing in the world that has caused more tears to be shed, and provoked more bitterness and heartache than the antagonism between mother-in-law and daughter-in-law. For when mother and daughter-in-law get along together it is tragedy for all concerned, particularly for the poor, helpless son and husband who is torn in twain between the two women who love him and whom he loves.

The humorists to the contrary notwithstanding, most women are on terms of friendly relationship with their sons-in-law. Often, indeed, there is a strong bond of mutual admiration and affection between them, but for a mother-in-law and daughter-in-law not to exist in a state of armed neutrality toward each other is a spectacle so rare as to call for public comment. Even when they are ladies enough outwardly to preserve the peace and treat each other with deadly politeness, inwardly they are seething with resentment and a suppressed desire to get into each other's hair.

It is a pity that distrust and dislike of each other should be so common between mother-in-law and daughter-in-law because it spells misery for them both, whereas a cordial relationship is a source of perpetual happiness and comfort to them. For to the mother it means that she keeps her son instead of having him alienated from her, as he is sure to be if she and his wife cannot agree.

To the wife it means that, if her mother-in-law is her friend, she has a powerful ally who will stand by her and back her up in every time of marital discord; and if her husband's verbal spanking that she cannot administer herself. And to the man it means that he can peacefully blend his old life with his new, that he will not be forced to the cruel choice of choosing between his wife and mother, or that he is more grateful to his wife than he is for her getting along with his mother.

Just why this idyllic state of affairs so seldom exists, it is hard to say. Nor is it easy to say which one of the women is to blame. Mothers contend that the fault lies at the daughter-in-law's door and assert that a bride comes into her husband's family with a chip on her shoulder that she dares any of them to knock off, particularly her mother-in-law. They also assert that the daughter-in-law regards her mother-in-law as sort of a hereditary foe and hates her, sight unseen.

They say that the daughter-in-law is jealous of her husband's affections for his mother and determined to wean him from her; that daughter-in-law gets as green-eyed if mother and son have a little confidential talk as she would if Mother were a blonde sister; that she drags her husband off to her people on all family fete days and acts like a martyr when she has to pay an occasional visit to mother-in-law; that she is so touchy that Mother would no more think of offering her a suggestion about running her house than she would to Queen Mary about buying hats. And so on and so on.

And daughter-in-law counters by saying that mother-in-law is bossy and fault-finding and she is not going to have any old woman running her house and telling her how much she should spend for her clothes, or how many clubs she should belong to.

Now this internecine warfare that results in such wreck and ruin to so many women can be avoided if it is a difficult problem to solve. Some say it is up to the young wives to save the situation by taking the initiative and wooing their husbands' mothers even more tactfully and adroitly and persistently than they wooed their husbands. They say that the daughter-in-law should make the mother's jealousy by making her husband pay his mother more attention than he did before he was married, and feel that she has not lost a son but gained a daughter; that she should flatter the older woman by asking her advice, and that she should generally handle mother-in-law with gloves.

But I think this is too much to ask of any bride. It is expecting her to have a wisdom and a diplomacy that takes years of living to acquire. So if the mother-in-law-daughter-in-law imbroglio is ever settled it must be done by the older woman.

The mother-in-law must make the running. She must win her son's wife by showing her affection, by little attentions, by praising her for the things she does well and ignoring her shortcomings and by keeping her fingers out of the bride's pie. It is not easy to win the affection of an in-law, but, believe me, you have got something worth having when you do.

Uncle Wiggily And Hippy's Horse

By HOWARD E. GARIS

You have heard some stories about Hippy, the happy little rabbit boy in Uncle Wiggily's funny, funny world. But here is one story about Hippy that you never have heard because it didn't happen until just now.

As you know, Hippy was like Uncle Wiggily, his daddy, in many ways. One was in often having adventures. If Hippy didn't have any real adventures he would have make-believe ones, which sometimes are almost as good as real ones.

Sometimes when Hippy had a make-believe adventure he would hop into the bushes and call Nurse Jane: "Oh, Miss Nurse Wuzzy Wuzzy!"

"My goodness! First Where?" the muskrat lady housekeeper would ask, and then Hippy would say:

"In the Hotel Hal Ha!"

Then Nurse Jane would shake her tail at him and Mrs. Longears, the rabbit lady wife of Uncle Wiggily, would say:

"Woe be sore!"

"Hippy, it wasn't at all kind or nice or polite of you to fool Nurse Jane that way with a make-believe adventure. Please don't do it again." And Hippy would be sorry and would say:

"No, thank you, I won't."

But next day he might stamp his paws on the front porch and cry:

"Here comes an elephant! Here comes an elephant! And Nurse Jane would say: "Oh, my goodness! me sakes alive and peanut, ice cream cone!" And there wouldn't be any elephant! All just Hippy at one of his make-believe adventures.

When Hippy received a rocking horse for Christmas, Uncle Wiggily thought perhaps if the little rabbit boy played riding off to real adventures on the back of his wooden horse he wouldn't so often tease Nurse Jane with make-believe adventures. At any rate, Hippy rode his horse, and had lots of fun. It was a wooden horse, on rockers, with glass eyes, and it had a tail and mane or real horsehair with stirrups, a bridle and saddle.

One day when Hippy, all by himself, went in the play room to ride his horse, the little rabbit boy, all of a sudden, saw his Christmas toy rocking to and fro and coming right across the room to him.

"Why, why, this is very queer!" said Hippy. "I'm not on my horse, nobody is on my horse, yet it is rocking and it's coming at me and oh, oh, dear! There's something wrong here."

Hippy ran out of the room crying for his daddy and saying:

ROCKING HORSE RUNNING AWAY

"My rocking horse is running away all by itself! My rocking horse is rocking and running and nobody is on it!"

"Now, Hippy, my boy," said Uncle Wiggily, kindly, "no more of that funny make-believe adventure business. You know your rocking horse can't run by itself. One of your brothers or sisters must be on its back in the saddle. Don't fool me!"

"Truly, I'm not fooling you, daddy!" said Hippy. "Come and look!"

So Uncle Wiggily went with Hippy to the play room. Surely enough, there was the Christmas horse rocking to and fro and moving across the room. No one was on its back. No one was in the play room.

"Oh, Oh! It must be a fairy!" cried Hippy. "I never saw such a thing!"

Uncle Wiggily himself didn't know what to make of it until, all of a sudden, he heard Nurse Jane laugh. Then the muskrat lady came from behind the door and the play room with a long black thread in her paw.

"Tied the black thread which Hippy couldn't see, to the horse to pull it and make it rock," said Miss Fanny Wuzzy. "But I had an adventure that Hippy didn't! Hippy! Ha! Ha!" And so it was. But if the bread knife will cut a slice off the cake of ice I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's new pudding.

MORRO CASTLE HEADS GUILTY

As Sentences Awaited, Damage Suits of $3,000,000 Are Filed in New York

Associated Press
New York, Jan. 27.—An effort to stave off sentencing of three officials convicted of negligence in the Morro Castle disaster coincided to-day with disclosure that damage suits aggregating $3,000,000 have been filed since the liner burned in September, 1934.

Acting Captain William F. Warren, Chief Engineer Eben S. Abbott, formerly of Yarmouth, N.S., and Executive Vice-president Henry C. Cabaud of the New York and Cuba Mail Steamship Co., were convicted Saturday night by a Federal Court jury after a ten-week trial. The company itself also was convicted.

George Z. Medalle, their attorney, said he would ask Judge Murray Hulbert to set aside the verdicts and, failing that, would appeal.

Around the Docks

Inbound from the United Kingdom, via the Panama Canal, California ports and Seattle, the Fumess motorship Pacific Trader, Capt. H. S. Reavley, docked at the Rithet piers this morning at 8.30 o'clock and proceeded to Vancouver at noon.

The Trader brought in 800 tons of general freight, most of this, however, being for discharge at Vancouver. The ship will remain there until Friday before moving to New Westminster to spend the week-end. She will clear about February 3 for London, Liverpool, Manchester and Glasgow.

PASSENGER LINERS

Three big passenger ships will call at Victoria this week. On Wednesday 11 a.m. the Aorangi will be here for a few days on her way from Vancouver to Honolulu, Suva, Auckland and Sydney.

Saturday two liners will be in port. That morning the S. Empress of Japan is due here from the Orient and Hawaii and late in the afternoon the S. President Grant will sail for the Far East. The Empress will sail from Honolulu this evening for Victoria.

LUMBER SHIPS

The Greek freighter Phaeax will proceed to Port Alberni late this afternoon to complete for the United Kingdom. The Nordpol got away yesterday afternoon and the Sutherland sailed early Saturday evening.

TAKING BIG CARGO

The Donaldson freighter Modavia, Capt. W. E. Mitchell cleared from New Westminster this morning for the United Kingdom with a large amount of British Columbia freight. In her hold were 1,000 tons of grain, 750 tons of metal, ten carloads of apples, 200,000 feet of lumber and 200 tons of general cargo.

SHIP DELAYED

Late in leaving Europe ports, it will be Saturday of this week before the Royal Mail liner Loch Katrine arrives at Victoria. She is being closely followed by the Dutch motorship Delidit, which is expected about February 5. The latter ship will remain a week in Vancouver to even up the schedule.

MAY WITHDRAW SHIPS

Word has been received in Victoria that freighters of the Tacoma Oriental Line may be withdrawn from the Pacific Northwest-China service because the mail subsidy of $29,000 a month will not be available this year. Ships of this fleet include the Tacoma, Seattle, Bellingham, Everett, Shelton, Grays Harbor and Olympia.

SEARCH AGAIN FOR REDFERN

Art Williams Leaves Georgetown for Interior of Brazil to Look For Aviator

Georgetown, British Guiana, Jan. 27.—Art Williams, former United States Army aviator, left here yesterday by plane for the interior to renew his search for Paul Redfern, missing since 1927 when he attempted a flight from Georgia to Rio de Janeiro.

Carrying supplies for the Armatua base camp of a commission marking the boundaries between British Guiana, Dutch Guiana and Brazil, he intended to rejoin his companions, Edward Sill and Harry Wendt, and an Indian guide who claims to have seen Redfern.

Members of the Canal Zone American Legion expedition—abandoned with Williams when they arrived here yesterday on their way from Christobal to Paramaribo, where they intend to obtain canoes and search for the missing aviator.

The legion party was led by W. L. Farrel, past commander of the E. S. Wald Post in the Canal Zone, and J. A. Ryan, a newspaperman. They said they expected to contact the United States Consul in Paramaribo before setting out.

Williams was confident of finding Redfern. Recently he said in interview here his party found "definite traces" of the flier.

Two parties now in the jungle looking for Redfern have not been reported for weeks.

REFUSES TO LEAVE SHIP

Former New York Society Woman Insists on Living on Schooner At Boston

Canadian Press
Boston, Jan. 27.—The four-masted schooner Snetting remains the home of Mrs. Ann Winsor Shewin, former New York society woman, and her son, despite continued efforts of the vessel's owners to evict them.

Mrs. Shewin, who claims an equity in the vessel and has lived on the Snetting for five years, delivered an ultimatum yesterday evening from a porthole on the boat which is anchored off Thompson's Island in Boston Harbor.

"This ship will never be taken out to sea if I can prevent it," she declared.

Thus far Mrs. Shewin, estranged wife of Louis L. Shewin, New York dramatic critic and playwright, has prevented the Montgomery Navigation Company, the owners, from sinking the vessel.

The ship had been tied up for ten years. The wharf owners claiming they had received no rent, demanded the Snetting be removed.

TRAIN CRASH NOT SERIOUS

Thirty-five Persons Slightly Injured, However, in Eastern Mishap

Canadian Press
St. Paome, Que., Jan. 27.—Thirty-five persons were injured near this station Saturday when a six-car Canadian National Railway excursion special from Gaspe crashed into the rear of the regular C.N.R. Maritime-Montreal train.

Four coaches of the regular were derailed, both trains being delayed for seven hours. None of the injured is in serious condition, physicians stated to-day.

The train wreck brought added confusion to Maritime-Montreal train schedules, already adversely affected by the severe snow storm and blizzard lashing the province since last Thursday. In addition to the seven-hour delay it underwent here, the regular train was held up further en route because of snowdrifts and was nearly a day late reaching Montreal. Fractured ribs were among injuries suffered by a few passengers of both trains. Others were bruised and cut about the face and body, while one or two suffered fairly severe limb injuries.

A number of trainmen were cut by flying glass. Material damage was reported as slight although the rear coach of the regular train was splintered and the engine of the excursion special dented.

Eastbound trains were also tied up due to the wreck as the derailed coaches toppled over on the right-of-way.
